Georgi is an Associate in PilieroMazza’s Labor & Employment Group, where she represents government contractors and commercial businesses in connection with managing their workforces. Georgi works alongside partners to help companies understand and comply with complex labor and employment laws relating to wage and hour requirements (e.g., the Service Contract Act and the Davis-Bacon Act), human resource policies and procedures, traditional labor law, and employment disputes and litigation.

Georgi earned her law degree from The George Washington University Law School, where she served as Notes Editor for The George Washington International Law Review. During her studies, Georgi clerked at the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the District of Columbia and the Alexandria Public Defender, which equipped her with a deeper understanding of the legal intricacies surrounding the workplace.
